Sculptural Profile

Original Design

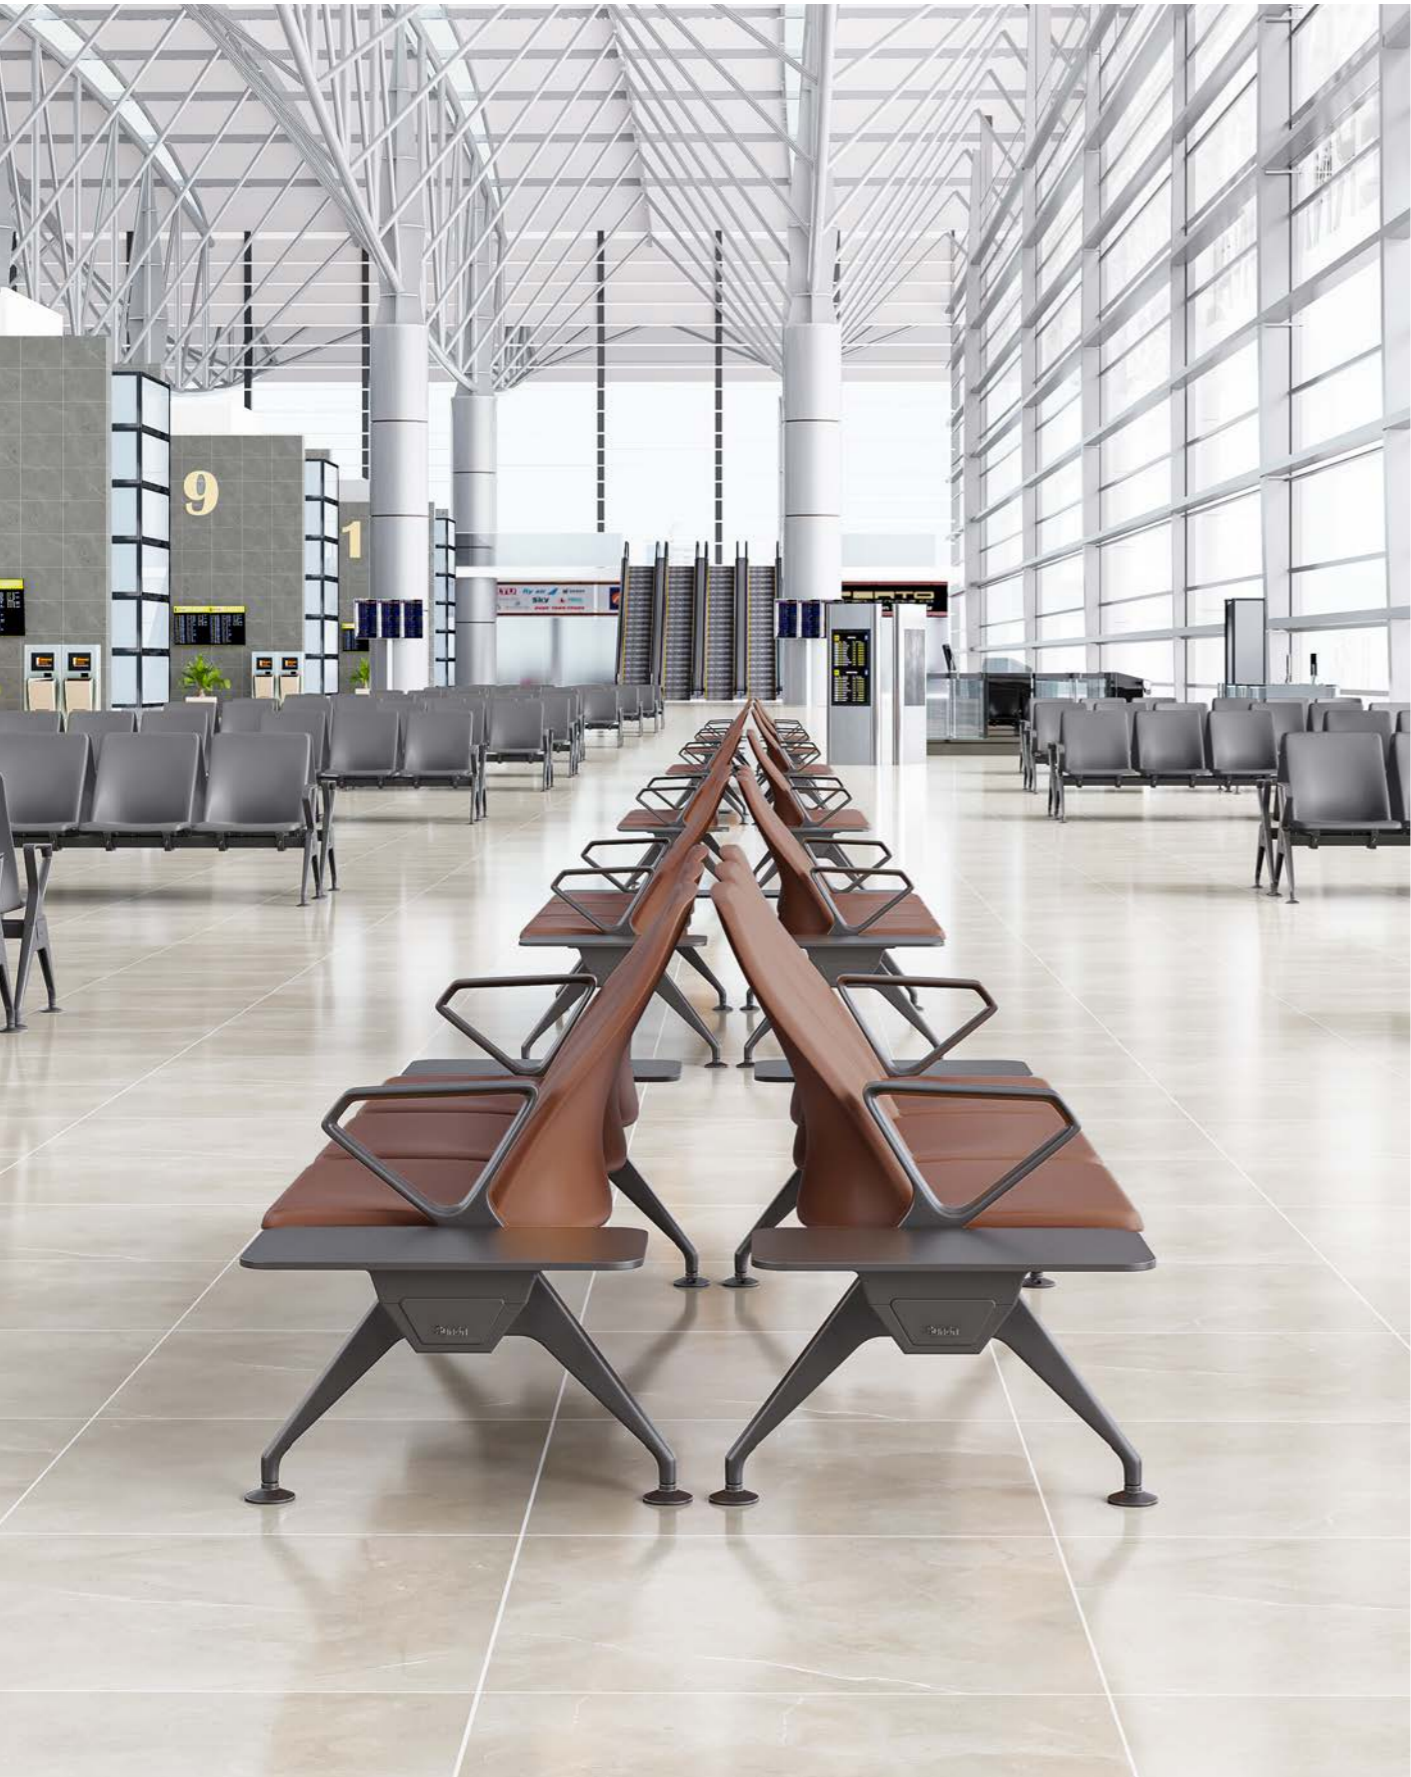

In 1973 Paolo Favaretto and his son founded a design studio in Padua that combines industrial design and interior design. For more than forty years now, this design studio has been involved in more than a hundred international projects and has won many international awards. Upholding a philosophy of curiosity, tenacity and passion for design, it is regarded as a shining star in the Italian industrial design.

Elegance

from Italy

Sunon central research institute cooperated with the Italian design team and carried out a study of nearly 1,000 behavioral samples taken from airports, stations, terminals, hospitals, and other public gathering places. Focusing on ergonomics, health and practicality, we want to develop a chair that takes charge of your comfort during long waiting hours.
